MONTHLY COMMENT

In terms of economic dynamics, in the United States, the GDP ended the year with a 2.3% Q/Q annualized growth, resulting in a 2.8% growth for the year. The disinflation trend continued, with core inflation ending the year at 2.5%. In this context, the Fed kept its benchmark interest rates steady at 4.25%-4.50%, with a communication that remained cautious in the face of the significant uncertainties introduced by the new policies of the Trump administration.

In Europe, the growth remains weak, at 1.1% in 2024, with significant differences between core economies and peripheral economies. Inflation continued to slow down, with core inflation in France and Italy already below the ECB's 2% target and on a compatible trajectory for other economies. The ECB thus reduced the deposit facility interest rate to 2.75% and communicated that it should continue the rate-cutting cycle.

The stock markets recorded a very strong performance in January. In the United States, the S&P 500 increased by 2.7%, balanced between Growth and Value styles. However, the end of the month was marked by significant volatility in technology stocks, particularly those related to artificial intelligence, following the announcement by the Chinese company Deepseek of a cheaper LLM than its American competitors. In Europe, the stock markets saw a very significant increase, with a 6.3% rise for the STOXX 600, 9.2% for the DAX, and 7.7% for the CAC 40 during the month of January. This performance reflects the prospect of rate cuts, positive earnings surprises in certain sectors such as luxury, and a catch-up compared to the lag in 2024.
